

Call for papers for JHEC 2019: Historical Thinking

We welcome theoretically and empirically oriented papers related to various concepts of historical thinking/reasoning, based on local, national and international research. They may include but do not have to be limited to (re)defining goals of history education in the view of the historical thinking concepts; developing critical attitudes towards various types of historical sources, both primary and secondary, including traditional textbooks and maps, but also new media and social media seen as a source of historical knowledge and historical manipulation(s); assessing students' historical thinking - methods and tools thereof. Overviews of literature and book reviews are also welcome, but please consult managing editor at joanna.wojdon@uwr.edu.pl prior to submitting your review.

As always, articles on other topics related to history didactics, history education and historical culture, will be considered for publication in the "Forum" section of the Journal.